Forecast for Wednesday 25 Jan 2023

Weather: A band of low cloud and rain, with some heavy bursts at times, will push in from the northwest through the early hours, this clearing to the southeast by dawn. Much clearer conditions behind with scattered showers. These showers will fall as snow above 800m from around mid-morning onwards. Showers easing into the evening.

Chance of cloud-free hill tops above 800m: Very low during the early hours but good outside of showers later, chances improving through the day as showers ease.

Low cloud and visibility: Poor at first in rain band but otherwise good, moderate or poor in showers.
